

■ Client Trading Agreement

In accordance with the license of CORNER CLICK, which operates under commercial license number 2023-00134, and is licensed by the country of St Lucia to engage in the business of brokerage in global financial markets, with its main address located at Ground Floor, The Sotheby Building, Rodney Village, Rodney Bay, Gros-Islet, Saint Lucia. (referred to herein as "CORNER CLICK"), for the purpose of opening and maintaining one or more trading accounts for the entity below (referred to herein as the "Client"), and for the provision of services related to the purchase and sale of Contracts for Difference (hereinafter referred to collectively as "CFDs"), stocks, futures contracts, currency spot transactions, futures gold contracts, and any similar instruments (hereinafter referred to collectively as "Parallel Contracts"), which can be bought or sold by CORNER CLICK on the Client's behalf, pursuant to the following:

1 | Account Establishment

The Client acknowledges, affirms, and agrees that, by executing this trading policy and in accordance with the terms and conditions of this agreement, CORNER CLICK, will establish a trading account in the name of the Client at CORNER CLICK's sole discretion, in accordance with this agreement. The Client also acknowledges that, pursuant to the terms and conditions herein, CORNER CLICK shall act as the counterparty for all transactions conducted under this trading policy. The Client shall deposit margin or collateral as set forth in Article 3 to enable CORNER CLICK to execute the Client's instructions. These accounts shall become effective, and this agreement shall become binding, when the Client deposits the margin and collateral.

2 | Trading Authorization

Under this agreement, CORNER CLICK is authorized to buy and sell Parallel Contracts related to the Client's accounts in accordance with the Client's verbal, written, or electronic instructions. Unless otherwise communicated in writing by the Client, CORNER CLICK is authorized to execute all orders either as a counterparty or with other counterparties, as deemed appropriate by CORNER CLICK.

3 | Margin and Deposit Conditions

The Client shall deposit collateral or margin with CORNER CLICK in amounts as determined by CORNER CLICK at its sole discretion. Margin requirements vary depending on the electronic trading system, the traded products, and the deposited amount, where higher deposits lead to higher margin utilization upon entry into transactions. Furthermore, CORNER CLICK may change margin conditions periodically.

The Client agrees to deposit through immediate bank transfer or any reliable funds transfer method as determined by CORNER CLICK for such additional margin when required by CORNER CLICK. All margin cover requests will be promptly met by CORNER CLICK using its own methods and at its sole discretion.

At any time, CORNER CLICK may proceed with the liquidation of the Client's account as per Article 9 below, and any failure by CORNER CLICK to enforce its rights under this agreement shall not be construed as a waiver of its rights thereafter. The above-mentioned guarantees or margin requirements from CORNER CLICK shall not prevent CORNER CLICK from increasing this requirement without prior notice. Margin cover requests are final and binding unless objected to in writing immediately.

The Client acknowledges that margin cover requests may occur even in cases where account positions are hedged, as spreads may widen as outlined in Article 6 of this document, leading to a reduction in the remaining margin. If the remaining margin is insufficient to maintain open positions, the account may continue to request margin cover and close any open positions in the account.

4 | Positioning, Profits, and Exceptional Cases

CORNER CLICK reserves the right to determine the amount and/or total amount of open positions that the Client may acquire or maintain with CORNER CLICK. CORNER CLICK also reserves the right to reject the acceptance of any order and does not guarantee any or all profits resulting from trading that have been recorded in CORNER CLICK's systems. This includes, but is not limited to, profits made during abnormal market conditions or exceptional cases or system malfunctions. CORNER CLICK shall not be responsible for any direct or indirect losses or damages resulting from any events, actions, or negligence beyond CORNER CLICK's control, including, but not limited to, losses due to government regulations, war, strikes, labor disturbances, terrorist acts, or any other force majeure events. CORNER CLICK shall not be held responsible for any damages, including, but not limited to, loss of profits or trading losses, arising from delays or errors in price quoting, order execution, or information due to the failure or malfunction of any communication or transmission facility, unauthorized access, theft, or system malfunctions, whether electronic or otherwise. The Client understands that CORNER CLICK is entitled to request any trading profits obtained by the Client through delayed trading or price quoting errors.

5 | Pricing, Scalping, Unlawful Orders, and Arbitrage Markets

The Client acknowledges and agrees not to engage in unlawful, unethical, or immoral transactions or transactions that violate prevailing laws, regulations, or CORNER CLICK's policies. The Client further agrees not to engage in any other transactions for scalping, or purposefully exploiting or taking advantage of errors, regardless of the extent, size, or clarity of such errors. The Client acknowledges that they shall bear all consequences and actions resulting from a breach of this commitment as set forth in this paragraph, whether they entail losses, violations, penalties, or decisions issued by CORNER CLICK, including the liquidation of the Client's account and its closure at CORNER CLICK's absolute discretion, without CORNER CLICK incurring any responsibility of any kind.

"Scalping" means rapid trading, i.e., conducting buy and sell operations in short timeframes to exploit or benefit from price differences and not to hold financial instruments for medium or long periods. The Client acknowledges that CORNER CLICK is entitled to retroactively cancel transactions it deems to have been entered into for exploitation or manipulation of price quoting, as outlined in this section.

CORNER CLICK is authorized to subsequently claim any trading profits obtained by the Client through transactions in violation of this clause, especially those related to speculative and trading purposes or the intentional exploitation of price quoting errors as stipulated herein. The Client understands that CORNER CLICK does not guarantee the execution of orders at specific prices, including, but not limited to, conditional orders such as stops and limits, particularly when market volatility increases, as in the case of arbitrage markets, or due to price gaps.

The Client acknowledges and agrees that in the event of receiving prices outside the market due to any reason, including, but not limited to, cases of delay, malfunction, or errors in electronic trading, CORNER CLICK shall retroactively cancel these trades. CORNER CLICK may choose to leave these trades void or reopen them at the correct market price. The Client further acknowledges that orders received during periods of increased market volatility will be executed at the best available price or fair market value.

The Client acknowledges that during market gap situations, contingent orders will be fulfilled, specifically, stop-loss orders at the next available price after the market gap. The price after the gap may expand beyond the specified price in contingent orders, potentially resulting in Clients losing more funds than initially anticipated.

The Client acknowledges that due to such risks, CORNER CLICK encourages its clients to utilize market orders rather than conditional orders, where market orders come with a new price determination, allowing Clients to accept or reject the new price.

The Client agrees that CORNER CLICK shall not be responsible for any losses, including margin cover requests, resulting from conditional orders being executed during arbitrage markets or orders executed at specified prices due to price quoting and/or market liquidity restrictions.

6 | Margin Expansion

The Client acknowledges and recognizes that there may be instances where margins expand beyond the typical margins provided. During periods of price volatility in the markets, such as news announcements, margins may significantly widen to compensate for increased market price volatility. CORNER CLICK advises the Client to exercise extreme caution when trading during increased price volatility in the markets, including major events, as the wider margins may have an adverse impact on all positions in an account that includes hedged positions.

7 | Settlement Dates, Rollover, and Interest

The Client grants CORNER CLICK the authority to renew or settle all or part of the open positions in currency, commodity, or any other financial products, within the Client's accounts. Such positions may be held on any electronic trading platform under the responsibility of the Client's account, or the transferred position may carry restricted interest charges or debit until the position is closed. All CFDs (Contracts for Differences) or other derivative instruments will not be automatically rolled over upon the contract's expiry date. It is the responsibility of the Client to ensure the roll-over or closure of any open positions.

CORNER CLICK shall be required to close all positions upon the expiration of future contracts. The Client may, at their discretion, choose to purchase a new contract. CORNER CLICK may, at its absolute discretion, opt to provide the Client with an interest-free account where the positions that have been transferred will incur unrestricted management fees in the account or will be debited. The Client agrees and acknowledges that the terms of no interest are solely granted by CORNER CLICK as a result of a request or objections submitted by the Client, and CORNER CLICK has the authority to retroactively cancel the terms of no interest and account activity at any time or after making decisions about the validity of these objections, including but not limited to whether the Client maintains interest-bearing accounts elsewhere. CORNER CLICK is also authorized to cancel all trading activities for this account since its creation after its decision. CORNER CLICK may refund the original deposits to the Client. Overnight currency pairs will not be paid or imposed/recorded as a daily swap fee on the account for a limited period determined by CORNER CLICK. Interest-free terms are not available for all currency pairs or spot commodity contracts (crude oil and gold), and CORNER CLICK reserves the right to cancel interest-free terms if the position is kept open for more than 20 days or any other period specified by CORNER CLICK from time to time and impose retroactive swap fees unless CORNER CLICK clearly and explicitly waives this condition in writing or by email. CORNER CLICK reserves the right to terminate account privileges without swap at any time and without prior notice to the Client.

8 | Collateral and Lending Agreement

CORNER CLICK retains all money, securities, currencies, and other property of the Client that are held by CORNER CLICK at any time for the Client's benefit or that may be at any time in its possession, control, or custody or recorded on its books for any purpose, including safekeeping, as collateral. CORNER CLICK is subject to a general lien and right of set-off for all obligations and responsibilities of the Client toward CORNER CLICK, whether CORNER CLICK has made progress regarding these securities or currencies or other property and regardless of the number of accounts the Client may have with CORNER CLICK.

CORNER CLICK, at its discretion, may at any time and from time to time, without notice to the Client, deliver or transfer all or any portion of the funds or other property from the Client's account to any other of the Client's accounts and/or pledge, re-pledge, hypothecate, or re-hypothecate and/or invest or loan any or all of the funds or other property held by CORNER CLICK for the Client as collateral, or exchange any or all such funds or property.

The Client agrees that CORNER CLICK shall not be required at any time to deliver to the Client the same assets that were delivered to or purchased by CORNER CLICK for the account of any Client. If the client receives currencies through trade settlement, CORNER CLICK shall make the payment as soon as possible. If the balance in the Client's account is insufficient to cover the delivery costs, the deposit receipts held in the name of the Client or CORNER CLICK, in its capacity as the Client's agent or nominee, shall become collateral ownership in the Client's account, as they were not fully paid by the Client. This authorization applies to all Client accounts with CORNER CLICK and remains in full force and effect until all accounts are fully paid by the Client or a cancellation notice is sent by CORNER CLICK.

9 | Account Liquidation / Debit Balances

In the event of:

- A / The death of the Client or the issuance of a court judgment or ruling declaring their legal incapacity.
- B / The submission of bankruptcy, the appointment of a judicial guardian, initiation of insolvency proceedings, or any similar action by the Client or against the Client.
- C / The placing of a restraining order against any of the Client's accounts with CORNER CLICK.
- D / Inadequate margin or as determined by CORNER CLICK, in its absolute discretion, that any collateral deposited to protect the Client's account(s) is insufficient, regardless of security prices, to protect the account.
- E / Failure of the Client to provide CORNER CLICK with any requested information or any other circumstances or developments that CORNER CLICK deems suitable for its protection, CORNER CLICK may, at its absolute discretion, take one or more of the following actions, or any part thereof:
 - 1 / Satisfy any obligation undertaken by the Client toward CORNER CLICK, whether directly or indirectly or through collateral, out of any of the Client's money or property held by it or under its control.
 - 2 / Sell or buy any or all contracts, guarantees, or assets held for the benefit of the Client.
 - 3 / Cancel any or all outstanding orders and contracts or any other obligations made on behalf of the Client.

Any of the above actions may be taken without margin calls or additional margin requirements and without sending prior notice to the Client or the Client's personal representatives, heirs, legal guardians, administrators, executors, or assigns. Regardless of whether ownership interest of the owner alone or with others will be liquidated upon the liquidation of the Client's long or short positions, CORNER CLICK may, at its absolute discretion, offset by the same value of the offset or may establish new long or short positions for the purpose of margining or balancing trading operations, which according to its absolute discretion may be in the best interest of CORNER CLICK to protect or reduce the Client's current positions in the Client's account.

Any buying or selling transactions listed below can be conducted at the absolute discretion of CORNER CLICK in any market, whether it be interbank or any other market where transactions are customarily executed, whether through contract, public auction, or private sale. CORNER CLICK has the right to purchase the whole or any part of it without any redemption right. The Client shall always be responsible for settling the value of any deficit in the account balance upon CORNER CLICK's request. In all cases, the Client shall be responsible for any remaining deficit in the Client's accounts if they are fully or partially liquidated by CORNER CLICK or by the Client. If the revenues generated under this authorization are not sufficient to cover all the Client's obligations and debts to CORNER CLICK, the Client shall immediately pay them upon request. The value of the deficit, along with the interest related to it, shall be at a rate equal to up to three points above the prevailing initial rate in CORNER CLICK, or the maximum legal interest rate, whichever is less. The Client agrees to make the payment and shall be responsible for any collection-related costs, including but not limited to legal fees, witness fees, travel expenses, and bank charges. If CORNER CLICK incurs non-collection costs related to any of the Client's accounts, the Client agrees to pay these expenses.

10 | Monthly Statements and Confirmations

The Client's trading orders, and account statements issued by CORNER CLICK for the Client are deemed accurate and correct and shall be final and binding on the Client if not objected to in writing by the Client within one business day from the date of issuance of such orders or account statements. The failure to object within one business day shall be considered an irrevocable acceptance, and the Client agrees that CORNER CLICK and the Client's agents, heirs, administrators, executors, or assigns shall not receive any confirmation from CORNER CLICK, does not relieve the Client of the duty to verify with CORNER CLICK and to object as provided for herein.

11 | Commissions, Costs, and Fees Disclosure of Introducing Brokers' Commissions:

The undersigned party hereby acknowledges and understands that CORNER CLICK Capital ("CORNER CLICK") does not monitor the activities of introducing brokers and assumes no responsibility for any decisions made by introducing brokers, including, but not limited to, the accuracy of trading software, risk warnings or lack thereof, profit guarantees, capital preservation, or trading advice. CORNER CLICK and introducing brokers are separate and distinct entities. Any agreement between CORNER CLICK and introducing brokers does not constitute a joint venture or partnership, and introducing brokers cannot be considered agents or employees of CORNER CLICK at any time. The undersigned party further acknowledges that commissions may be generated on their trading account with CORNER CLICK as a result of their relationship with introducing brokers working with CORNER CLICK. The undersigned party agrees and consents that CORNER CLICK is authorized to impose on their trading account any amount determined by introducing brokers as a commission. The undersigned party also acknowledges that all commissions imposed by CORNER CLICK on their trading account represent commissions paid to introducing brokers, and no compensation is received by CORNER CLICK as a result of deducting these commissions.

The Client agrees to pay all fees, commissions, expenses, and/or charges related to Contracts for Difference transactions conducted through CORNER CLICK's electronic platform, whether for the benefit of CORNER CLICK or other parties. These fees may include, but are not limited to, commissions, spreads, discounts, transaction fees, transfer and cancellation fees, settlement fees, and fees for inactive accounts. CORNER CLICK may modify its fees, commissions, expenses, and charges without prior notice. The Client is responsible for regularly reviewing all notices published by CORNER CLICK through all available communication channels. All such fees, commissions, expenses, and charges are borne by the Client when incurred and are deducted from the Client's account by CORNER CLICK without prior notice. CORNER CLICK may share these commissions or spreads with other parties. Transaction fees for each trading operation can be identified on specific trading platforms or through CORNER CLICK's website or via email.

12 | CORNER CLICK's Responsibilities

CORNER CLICK is not responsible for delays in sending orders due to the failure or disruption of transmission or communication facilities, power outages, or for any reason beyond CORNER CLICK's control or expectations. CORNER CLICK is not responsible for loss of profits, general losses, or other consequential results affecting the Client's accounts as a result of the cancellation of trading operations, interest rate conditions, market volatility, price re-quotes, or conditions of increased price volatility in the markets. CORNER CLICK is only responsible for acts that are directly attributable to gross negligence, intentional misconduct, or fraud by CORNER CLICK. CORNER CLICK is not responsible for losses resulting from the negligence of any agent or any other party appointed by CORNER CLICK under this agreement. The Client agrees to indemnify and hold harmless CORNER CLICK from any and all losses arising from the Client's accounts (without limitation) in relation to the following:

- 1 / Any action or negligence by the Client or by an authorized agent from time to time or any persons CORNER CLICK believes are acting without authorization on behalf of the Client.
- 2 / The provision of services or products to the Client relating to their account.
- 3 / Any of the Client's accounts.
- 4 / As a result of falsification by the Client or any default by the Client in their obligations.
- 5 / Any taxes.
- 6 / As a result of CORNER CLICK exercising its rights under this agreement or any other natural or legal person, or any applicable law.

CORNER CLICK shall not be obligated to take or refrain from taking any action that is wholly or partially beyond its control due to circumstances or situations that are outside its authority and beyond its ability to mitigate, including but not limited to: any changes in the law, any effective law or disruption in any exchange or clearing institution, settlement system, war, terrorism, civil unrest, any malfunction or disruption in communication or computer facilities, postal strikes or others, or any similar industrial action, whether actual, threatened, or anticipated. In any such case, CORNER CLICK shall not be held responsible to the client for the non-performance of all or part of its obligations or for any delay in performing them due to reasons beyond its control, including but not limited to:

15 | Acknowledgment of Risks

The client acknowledges that investments in trading contracts for difference, leveraged transactions, and margin requirements involve speculative operations with a high degree of risk, and may result in the client losing all the funds invested, including risks of losses exceeding the margin deposits required for CFD positions, potentially resulting in substantial losses exceeding the investments and margin deposits significantly. The client understands that CORNER CLICK does not guarantee that the client will achieve any profits from trading on its electronic trading platform, nor does it guarantee that the client will not incur losses or lose all the funds being traded.

The Client has carefully considered the proportion of funds that will be invested in Contracts for Difference from all of the Client's assets, which the Client considers as risk capital available for investment in Contracts for Difference. The Client affirms that risk capital is the amount of money the Client is willing to risk for investment in Contracts for Difference, and in the event of a loss, it will not under any circumstances change the Client's lifestyle. The Client agrees to notify CORNER CLICK immediately if there is any change in the Client's financial situation in any way that may lead to a decrease in the net value of the Client or liquid assets or risk capital.

Inappropriate settlements may encompass, for example:

- Trades executed during platform or related device outages, whether electronic or non-electronic.
- Trades executed at prices outside the market, regardless of how these prices were obtained, including losing prices.
- Trades executed during volatile market conditions and cases of force majeure occurring during exceptional market circumstances.

If, at its absolute discretion, CORNER CLICK determines that any trades have been settled inappropriately, CORNER CLICK is empowered to retroactively cancel the improperly settled transactions and adjust ownership rights of the account based on these cancellations before completing any withdrawals. In the event that, during the settlement review, CORNER CLICK is authorized to cancel outstanding trades that have been executed and adjust the client's ownership rights before any withdrawals are processed, CORNER CLICK, if it decides, at its absolute discretion, that these trades completed within this account violate any agreed-upon terms or guarantees, including but not limited to those outlined in may utilize the client's account for fraudulent activities that attempt to reverse all activity in a secondary trading account, regardless of the names under which the secondary trading account is held, resulting in commissions being collected from excess inflation in the accounts of others from whom the client did not obtain trading authorization through an agency granted to them.

By receiving your account statements electronically, you agree to review them promptly and inform us of any discrepancies in accordance with the terms of the client agreement. The Client also authorizes CORNER CLICK to contact financial institutions in this regard.

21 | Amendments to the Agreement

The Client agrees that CORNER CLICK can change, add, or cancel any of the terms and conditions of this agreement at any time by notifying the Client of such amendment and its effective date on CORNER CLICK's website and/or by notifying the Client via email at the email address provided to CORNER CLICK. Upon the completion of this action, the Client and CORNER CLICK are legally bound by the amendment, regardless of whether the Client received the notification. Such cases include, but are not limited to, the suspension or delay of trading, wars, earthquakes, disruptions, failures in communication lines, electricity, equipment, software malfunctions, or any other reason beyond CORNER CLICK's direct or indirect control. This also encompasses unauthorized access, theft, or any technical issues or the like that prevent the Client from accessing, cancelling, or modifying an order or prohibiting CORNER CLICK from taking any online action or instructions.

If CORNER CLICK determines the existence of a force majeure, CORNER CLICK, at its absolute discretion and without prior notice to the Client, may, at any time, take one or more of the following steps:

- C / CORNER CLICK, at its absolute discretion, decides it lacks sufficient information regarding the client's performance of any of their obligations.

- H / CORNER CLICK, at its absolute discretion, deems that the continuation of this agreement may lead to a violation of any laws, regulations, or market-specific standards.

In the event of any of the above occurrences, the client acknowledges that all financial and non-financial balances held with CORNER CLICK, whether held individually shall be considered as collateral for CORNER CLICK's performance of the client's obligations under this agreement. Pursuant to this agreement, the client undertakes to indemnify CORNER CLICK against any and all damages, costs, expenses, losses, fines, claims, or liabilities assumed by CORNER CLICK or other parties directly due to any of the above events, and CORNER CLICK is entitled to suspend all or any part of its obligations to the client.

Furthermore, the client acknowledges and agrees under this that CORNER CLICK shall have the right to liquidate the client's account/accounts and use all the client's balances as if they were pledged to CORNER CLICK.

24 | Settlement

In the event of a breach of any provision of this agreement, CORNER CLICK, at its absolute discretion and without providing the client with any additional notice, shall have the right to immediately close and liquidate the account, terminate any agreement with the client, sell any or all of the client's assets cancel any pending orders, and terminate any other outstanding contracts or instruments. The client shall not be able to access the platform and initiate market orders. All cash margins become immediately due to CORNER CLICK, which automatically settles all the client's transactions. The client shall recover any remaining amounts after CORNER CLICK's full rights are retrieved, and the client shall be responsible for all legal and professional expenses incurred by CORNER CLICK in connection with the breach or because of it.

25 | No Waiver or Amendment

No provision of this agreement may be waived or modified except if the waiver or modification is in writing and signed by the Client and an authorized representative of CORNER CLICK or through email or via the company's website. No waiver or modification of this agreement shall be deemed a waiver of CORNER CLICK's specified rights under this agreement on any occasion or multiple occasions. No oral agreements or contrary instructions shall be recognized or enforced. This agreement and all accompanying documents constitute the entire agreement between the parties, replacing all previous written and oral agreements. 2 / The user understands that technical problems or other circumstances may delay or prevent the user from accessing or canceling orders on the system or may delay or prevent CORNER CLICK from executing or settling orders on the Systems. CORNER CLICK shall not be responsible for any losses, costs, damages, or other injuries, whether contractual or arising from civil errors, resulting from or due to CORNER CLICK's use or partial or complete user use of the Systems, or reliance on any of them under or relating to this agreement. CORNER CLICK is not responsible in any form towards the user or any other party for any direct, indirect, special, incidental, consequential damages (including loss of profits, trading losses, trading damages), or similar damages, even if they were aware of the possibility of their occurrence. If some legislation does not allow the limitation or exclusion of certain damages, CORNER CLICK's liability under this agreement is limited to the extent permitted by law. 3 / The user acknowledges sole responsibility for all orders entered on the Systems. The user understands that their orders will be routed directly to global exchanges in various financial markets. The user agrees that there may be minimum trade value limits and restrictions on the maximum number of contracts for ownership or trading that the Systems will process, and that the current limits are subject to change. Market orders may not be accepted, and the Direct Electronic Order Placement Service may be suspended on the final trading day of the contract. The user understands that orders sent directly to the global exchange trading floors or electronic trading systems may be reviewed by the order desk, and if the user fails to comply with the conditions, their order may be rejected. The user understands that their usage may be restricted or access to the Systems denied at any time, and CORNER CLICK reserves the right to request a margin deposit before executing any order placed through the Systems or as required by CORNER CLICK's margin policy. All such materials are provided "as is" without any warranties, whether express or implied, including warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose and warranties of marketability, and non-infringement.

7 / The user agrees that their use of the Systems is at their own risk. The user is responsible for providing and protecting the means they use to access the Systems, which may include, but are not limited to, personal computers, servers, phones, or any other access lines. The user is responsible for all services and access fees necessary to connect to the Systems and agrees to bear all costs incurred for accessing the Systems. The user agrees to indemnify CORNER CLICK and protect it from any and all subsequent, consequential, special, material, and indirect damages, including loss of profit, trading losses, and trading damages, arising out of, or in connection with such information, whether licensed or unlicensed. If any inaccurate, incomplete, or incorrect information related to the user is transferred to CORNER CLICK, whether through the Systems or not, or if the user finds that the Systems contain inaccurate, incomplete, or incorrect information related to the user, the user undertakes to notify CORNER CLICK immediately at the email address support@Corner Click-capital.com. - 3 / In case the user receives confirmation (whether in paper, electronic, or oral form) of the execution of any order not placed by the user or any similar discrepancy to what is mentioned here. The user agrees and acknowledges that CORNER CLICK has the right to rely on oral, written, or electronic means of communication, whether in material or immaterial form, received from the user, including those from the user's managers, partners, agents, or employees.

3 /The user hereby undertakes and agrees to the following:

i / To use the Systems only for the purpose of placing orders for currency and precious metal contracts, price data, and electronic access to the user's account. The user agrees not to engage in transactions using the Systems, either directly or indirectly, with any of its affiliates. This includes, for example, accepting any offer or making a counteroffer against any offer made by any of its affiliates. In this regard, the user agrees that CORNER CLICK has the right to take any actions deemed appropriate to prevent such transactions from taking place, but any such actions taken by CORNER CLICK do not release the user from their obligations mentioned in this clause.

ii /To fulfill their obligations arising from any transaction executed through the Systems, based on the terms and conditions of that completed transaction.

9 / The user agrees to indemnify CORNER CLICK, protect it, and protect the Information Providers from any and all claims, demands, lawsuits, actions, proceedings, and all losses, liabilities, damages, costs, and expenses (including attorney's fees) that CORNER CLICK bears and that arise from or are related to any claims, lawsuits, proceedings, or actions against CORNER CLICK resulting from the user's violation of this agreement or the rights of any third party. However, CORNER CLICK retains the discretion to delegate and request the user to defend or settle any claims or demands as it deems appropriate, at the user's expense and responsibility. This indemnification and protection shall remain valid even after the termination of this agreement.

10 / CORNER CLICK reserves the right to terminate the user's access to the Systems at its discretion, without notice and without any restrictions for any reason, including but not limited to unauthorized use of the user's access codes and/or user number/numbers or violation of this agreement, or breach of any agreements between the user and CORNER CLICK.

11 / . In the event of the termination, cancellation, or cessation of the Client agreement, all rights granted by this agreement shall immediately expire and revert to CORNER CLICK, and the user shall be obligated to cease using the systems and, if so, requested by CORNER CLICK, to either return or destroy all software, including copies thereof.

12 / The user agrees to settle all subscriptions, services, user fees, if applicable, and commissions for any orders executed through the systems, and agrees to the possibility of changing these fees at any time. The user also agrees to pay all costs, including legal fees, incurred by CORNER CLICK in collecting overdue fees from the user.

10 / This agreement is entered into based on the user's personal capacity and not on behalf of any company, organization, or any other entity unless the user's account is specifically designated for this purpose. The user agrees to use the information solely for their investment activities and not for any commercial or trading activities.

11 / All warranties, guarantees, explicit or implied, whether oral or written, legal or factual, including quality and fitness for a particular purpose with respect to information or any aspect of the systems (including, but not limited to, order execution and access) are excluded to the extent permitted by law.

12 / The user agrees that CORNER CLICK has the right to retain and process any information related to the user obtained as a result of the user's use of the systems (referred to here as "Personal Data"). CORNER CLICK has the right to access and use such information for operational, credit analysis, statistical analysis, including behavioral analysis, and to identify and provide the user with information about products and services (including those provided by third parties) that may be of interest to the user or CORNER CLICK. The user consents to CORNER CLICK disclosing personal information to credit rating agencies and any subcontractors of CORNER CLICK or CORNER CLICK's agents or service providers where necessary to provide services or when required by law. Trading CFDs Using Borrowed Funds

1. Borrowing money or leveraging

Involves high risks when it comes to trading CFDs and precious metals. The initial margin is small compared to the contract value, and as such, these transactions are considered "financed with borrowed funds" or "leveraged." A relatively small market movement can have a significant impact on the funds you have deposited or are depositing. This can work either in your favor or against you. You may lose the entire initial margin and any funds you have deposited with the company to maintain your position. If the market moves against you or margin levels are raised, you may be required to deposit more funds within a short timeframe to maintain your position. Failure to comply with this deposit request within the specified time could result in the liquidation of your position, and you will be responsible for any deficit in your account.

2. Risk of Order Reduction or Strategies

Certain orders (such as "stop-loss" orders when available under local laws or "stop-limit" orders designed to limit losses to specific amounts) may not be executed, which is impossible due to market conditions. At times, it may be difficult or even impossible to close out a particular position without incurring substantial losses. For example, the position of a dealer may be completely offset, and the spread position may carry the same level of risk as the buying or selling position.

3. Suspension or Alteration of Trading Relationships and Prices

Market conditions (such as liquidity) and/or the application of specific market rules (such as trading suspensions in a specific contract or the contract's maturity month due to price limits or government intervention or other causes beyond the counterparty's control) may impact the increased risk of loss, making it difficult or impossible to enter into transactions or settle/liquidate positions.

4. Deposited Funds and Other Assets

You should be aware of the money or other assets deposited for protection when trading Contracts for Difference, particularly in the event of the counterparty's default or insolvency. The extent to which you can recover your money or assets may be governed by specific legislation or local regulations. In some regions, the assets defined as belonging to you may be proportionally calculated in the same way as funds are calculated for distribution in the event of a deficit.

5. Commissions and Other Fees

Before commencing trading, you should obtain a clear explanation of all commissions, fees, price premiums, price discounts, and other charges for which you will be responsible. These fees may reduce your profits (if any) or increase your losses.

6. Price Risks

Profits or losses in CFD trading are influenced by price fluctuations.

7. Over-the-Counter Market

Contracts for Difference are not traded on a regulated exchange and do not require a public open auction. Instead, they are traded in over-the-counter markets. CORNER CLICK ("CORNER CLICK") acts as a CFD trading intermediary and may also be the counterparty to the trade. Consequently, you will trade at prices determined by CORNER CLICK. Although CORNER CLICK's price lists are supported by computer-based content, prices may vary due to market conditions and liquidity, and these prices may not be as favorable as those offered by other traders. CORNER CLICK's trading facilities, supported by computer-based systems for order routing, execution, and price matching, are subject to interruptions or temporary failures, just like all other systems and facilities. Your ability to compensate for specific losses is subject to the liability limits stated in the customer agreement, online services, electronic trading agreement, agreements with other traders, and banks and other financial institutions that may be in a counterparty position.

9. Off-Exchange Transactions

Companies are generally not required to execute off-exchange transactions in CFDs. CORNER CLICK Capital, in general, acts as the counterparty in the transaction. It may be difficult or even impossible to close out a current position, estimate its value, establish a fair price, or even assess the extent of the risks involved in a CFD trading position. For these reasons, these transactions involve additional risks. Before engaging in any Contracts for Difference trading, you must be informed about the applicable rules, associated risks, policies, procedures, counterpart agreements, and the accompanying risks.

5 / Margin

We reserve the absolute right at any time, before or after our approval to enter into any contract above, to request you to provide us with a margin. You acknowledge that these funds will generally not be subject to Client money rules

We reasonably rely on our estimation of the required margin amount based on our assessment of trade risks and request the appropriate amount, considering that risk assessment constitutes trading margin. We retain the margin as a deposit for you in the Client's dedicated account. This means that you remain the beneficial owner of these funds until we incur any costs, losses, or obligations related to or arising from your contract(s) with us, including, but not limited to, obligations we incur with currency dealers, exchange institutions, brokers, banks, or any similar institutions on our behalf. In this case, we become the beneficial owner of that portion of the funds held as margin that equals our costs, losses, or obligations without the need for any notice or request from you.

We reserve the right to request you to restore the margin to the originally agreed upon percentage level for the relevant trading if the margin significantly falls below the acceptable trading level. All margin requests are settled within twenty-four hours from the first time we notify you of the margin request.

Margin is automatically transferred to us in any of the following circumstances:

- 1 / On the value date.
- 2 / If you breach any of the essential terms of these terms and conditions.
- 3 / In the specific circumstances set forth in Article below.

We also settle any margin/margins or any other funds we hold regarding any of your contracts to cover any costs, losses, and obligations we incur in connection with or arising from any other contract you hold with us.

6 / Breach and Termination

We reserve the right (hereinafter "CORNER CLICK") to close all or part of any market trade and/or terminate any contract without notice in the event that the Client engages in, including but not limited to:

- Failure to make payments for any services when due under these terms and conditions.
- A material breach of these terms and conditions or failure to comply with trading-related obligations.
- A violation of any laws or regulatory rules.
- It becomes unlawful for us to continue providing services.
- The inability to settle debts when due, the filing of insolvency proceedings against those debts, or the presentation of settlement or arrangement proposals to creditors or the suspension or threat of suspension of your business or part thereof.

In the above-mentioned circumstances or anything similar thereof in accordance with the effective legislation. If you become aware of any of the situations referred to in these terms and conditions, you must immediately and in writing notify us.

7 / Liability Determination

The Client shall be held responsible for any losses arising from unauthorized payment transactions, including but not limited to:

- The use of payment instructions for a lost account.
- The Client's failure to protect the security features designated for their account information.
- CORNER CLICK is not responsible for any claims arising from currency fluctuations between the order confirmation and the value date or resulting from your failure to comply with these terms and conditions, or arising from the failure or delay of any other party in sending, providing, or delivering any service.
- CORNER CLICK is not liable for any claims that may arise due to price fluctuations between the order confirmation and the value date, or due to the Client's non-compliance with the terms and conditions, or due to the failure or delay of any other party in transferring, providing, or delivering any service.

The Client agrees to compensate CORNER CLICK for all losses, including legal costs for a lawyer and a private Client, and the obligations resulting from services provided to the Client, or in enforcing our rights under this agreement, and in particular the losses and obligations incurred as a result of:

- Any failure to pay any amount due under a contract or a breach of these terms and conditions.
- Execution of your instructions.

The Client acknowledges their explicit consent to protect our rights above. However, in this case, we have the right, as an alternative to our right to obtain compensation, to deduct any amounts due from the Client to us from any funds held on the Client's behalf in their account.

8 / Representations and Undertakings

You continuously guarantee and declare to us the following:

- 1 / All information you provide to us is complete, accurate, and not misleading in any way.
- 2 / All orders are issued under the Client's trade or business activities.
- 3 / Orders are placed for pure business purposes and not for currency speculation or investment purposes.
- 4 / You act genuinely and not as an agent or representative for another party.
- 5 / You are not prohibited by any legal restrictions or under any laws or regulations from fulfilling your obligations under these terms and conditions and any related transactions we conduct.
- 6 / The Client possesses all necessary approvals and authority to enter into an agreement under these terms and conditions and to issue orders or other transactions resulting from these orders (if the Client is a company, you are duly authorized and possess all the powers or authorities or otherwise under the company's constitutional and regulatory documents).
- 7 / The Client complies with all relevant laws, regulations, exchange regulations, and registration conditions.
- 8 / All orders are issued during your usual business or trading activities and are solely for commercial or investment purposes, not for currency speculation.
- 9 / The Client assumes the risks and ownership of the purchased currency as a result of full payment of the currency sold per your instructions in the relevant order.
- 10 / The Client undertakes to notify us immediately of any changes in your company's ownership exceeding 10%.
